

Allies Kill Or Rout 6,000 Korean Reds West Of Seoul

Marshall Charges Mac's Policies Threatened Split In U.N.

Denies Ouster Dictated By Other Nations

Washington (AP) — Secretary of Defense Marshall declared yesterday that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's war proposals had threatened to split the United Nations Allies and force the United States to "go it alone" in Korea.

He told Senators the five-star general's outspoken opposition to the Truman administration's Korean policy raised the issue of "what voice spoke from this country on foreign policy."

"By his public statements," Marshall testified, "he set up a very serious reaction among our Allies, which threatened our collective action with them, and which threatened our position in the world in relation to this great crisis, and which threatened to leave us in a situation of going it alone."

He denied, however, that foreign governments had dictated MacArthur's removal by President Truman or had even suggested such a step.

Marshall sharply challenged a suggestion that this country already is "going it alone" in the conflict.

Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) indicated there are about 30,000 U.N. troops on the Korean battlefield fighting alongside an estimated 350,000 American troops.

He added: "Could it not be said in the light of these figures that we are already going it alone?"

"I don't think so, sir," Marshall retorted.

General MacArthur has proposed that the United States "go it alone" in Korea if necessary to bomb Red China and try to force a quick end to the bloody struggle. Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services committee said he believed Wiley's estimate of 350,000 American troops was too high and he never had heard the figure before.

Marshall's testimony on the combat strength of the Eighth Army was deleted from the record by censors appointed to prevent security leaks in the super-charged hearing on Far East policy.

He spent most of his time explaining to the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees the steps which led to the ouster.

And he will return again today to be queried by senators who have not yet had the chance to question him.

This was Marshall's third day behind closed doors to defend the administration's Asia policies and the firing of MacArthur who laid his case before the group last week. As in the case of MacArthur the secretary's testimony is being censored to prevent security violations before the transcript is made public.

MacArthur wanted to hit the Chinese Reds harder by a naval blockade, air operations over Manchuria and the use of Chinese Nationalist troops. The administration seeks to confine the war to Korea, hoping to inflict such casualties on the foe there as will induce him to make peace.

In essence, Marshall said the historic dispute boils down to a clash of opinion over what Russia can and will do in the Far East.

MacArthur does not believe Russia can wage a strong war in Asia and he is willing to risk Soviet entry into the Korean war by bombing China.

The administration believes Russia has strong forces in Asia which might come to China's aid and create the threat of a world-wide atomic war.

Giving his own views on the voice of authority, Marshall said:

"The important aspect of the matter is there can be only one voice—there can be only one voice—constitutional and otherwise—in the decisions as to the foreign policy at the time they are given out. 'I don't mean by that that you don't debate them up here but you cannot have two voices.'"

If he had been in MacArthur's place, Marshall said, he would have kept his fight within the government and not carried it to the public. And he added if he had lost—he would have resigned.

Tokyo, Thursday (AP) — Two U.S. F-80 jet fighter planes locked wheels in a practice dive ten miles east of the big southern Japanese industrial city of Fukuoka today. One crashed in flames, killing the pilot and 10 Japanese.

House Unit Tentatively Approves Tax Increase

Washington, (AP)—A $3,000,000,000 increase in individual income taxes raising rates across the board for every taxpayer, was tentatively voted yesterday by the House Ways and Means committee.

The plan, still subject to House and Senate approval, would raise the rates in each surtax bracket by three percentage points.

That would be considerably more of an increase for most people than it may look at first glance. Based on taxes paid now, the actual increase would range from about 15 per cent in the low brackets to about 3 per cent for people with half-million dollar incomes.

(A man with half million dollar income now pays over $400,000 taxes, a much bigger proportion than the little fellow.)

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder had urged an increase of four percentage points, which he estimated would bring in an additional $3,600,000,000 a year.

The proposed rate increase, first big positive step toward getting the extra money needed to put the preparedness drive on a pay-as-you-go basis, was agreed upon after all-day deliberations behind closed doors.

For a single person with no dependents and a net income of $2,000 a year after deductions but before personal exemptions, the tax would go up $42, from $280 to $322.

A married person with no dependents and an $8,000 net income now pays $1,416. His obligation would be $1,620 under the committee's plan, an increase of $204.

For a married man with two dependents and a $15,000 net income, the increase would be $378, from $2,900 to $3,278.

The lowest rate bracket, covering the first $2,000 of surtax net income, would rise from 20 per cent to 23 per cent.

The $2,000-$4,000 bracket rate would rise from 22 to 25 per cent; $4,000-$6,000 from 26 to 29 per cent, $6,000-$8,000 from 30 to 33 per cent, $8,000-$10,000 from 34 to 37 per cent, and so on.

In another decision affecting many individuals, the committee tentatively approved special tax treatment for unmarried persons who nevertheless are the heads of families. Such individuals, including widows with dependent children living under the same roof, would be granted approximately half the tax advantage now enjoyed by married persons under the income splitting provisions of the 1948 tax law.

Mobs Riot In Panama City; One Man Killed, 112 Injured

Panama, Panama, (AP)—Mobs rioted through the streets of Panama City yesterday demanding the overthrow of President Arnulfo Arias. One man was killed and at least 112 injured when the crowds clashed with Arias' supporters.

The dead man was identified as Carlos Tapia, 19-year-old student, who died of a bullet wound.

Santo Tomas hospital said 86 persons had been given first aid treatment for injuries and 26 had been hospitalized.

The President and National police chief Jose Antonio Remon were in conference last night. Sources in close touch with developments said Arias had offered to reverse his action abolishing the 1946 constitution—the move which touched off violent opposition.

A source at the presidential office said the Cabinet was standing by for discussion of whatever was agreed at the Arias-Remon meeting.

The sources said Arias offered to return to the 1946 constitution after Remon told him the police, the nation's only armed force, favor it over the 1941 charter which the president had re-instituted by decree.

A majority of the National Assembly, which Arias had dissolved by his decree, arranged to meet last night to impeach the president. Earlier, 37 of the 42 deputies had voted to ask the Supreme court to arrest Arias, but the court replied it had no legal power to do so.

After Mr. Truman had thumped through "The Little Fairy Waltz," which he learned almost 60 years ago, he rippled through some Mozart and Paderewski.

The occasion: the celebration of National Music week.

The audience: Music lovers who had met at the White House to give Mr. Truman a piano, made by the country's leading manufacturers from materials gathered from U. N. countries.

"I had a smattering of piano education from the time I was seven until I was 13 or 14 or 15," he said.

"I decide then I would have to go work to make a living."

"Some people think the country would be better off if I had continued (with a musical education). I can't say that I agree with them."

Gen. Ridgway Recommended For Promotion

Washington, (AP)—President Truman yesterday promoted Lt. Gen. Matthew W. Ridgway, who succeeded Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Far East, to become a full four-star general.

Mr. Truman's recommendation, subject to Senate confirmation, came just two days short of a month after the dramatic ouster of General MacArthur last April and the naming of General Ridgway as supreme commander in the Korean war.

Now 56, a hard-bitten, vigorous campaigner, Ridgway was graduated from West Point in 1917.

During World War Two, he commanded the famed 82nd Airborne Division and jumped with his troops on D-day in the Normandy invasion. His familiar trade marks—the live hand-grenade and first-aid kit taped to his shoulders—are holdovers from his paratroop days.

The new fourth star will match his "four hat" job as supreme commander, Allied power (SCAP), commander-in-chief, United Nations command, commander-in-chief, Far East, and commander general, U. S. Army, Far East.

European Royalty Will Flourish Again Today

Nancy, France — (AP) — Archduke Otto of Hapsburg and Princess Regina of Saxony-Meiningen will be married today with all the pomp that the ex-royalty of central Europe can muster.

The archduke, pretender to the Austro-Hungarian throne, and his blonde, blue-eyed fiancée arrived yesterday. The flags of France and the old duchy of Lorraine decorated the city hall, where mayor Lionel Pelerin will read the civil ceremony.

Otto is 38. Princess Regina is 25. Otto's ancestors ruled Austro-Hungary, which spread over most of central Europe until 1918. It included what are today Austria, Hungary and parts of Czechoslovakia, Poland, Yugoslavia, Italy and Romania.

Iran Rebukes British Charge

Tehran, Iran — (AP) — Premier Mohammad Mossadegh's government made clear in a note to Britain yesterday that it has no intention of retreating on nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. The note denied that nationalization was a "Communist act," as charged by Britain. It said elimination of the British-dominated company would ease discontent in this country and lead to better relations with London.

Iran said she was prepared to look into British claims for compensation and to guarantee that former customers—the British—would be put at the head of the line in the sale of nationalized oil.

Refugees Evacuated

San Salvador, El Salvador, (AP) — About 20,000 earthquake refugees were reported under government care yesterday. Army trucks bore others out of the region in which the government estimates more than 4,000 were killed and 4,000 injured Sunday.

Cops Accused Of Taking Graft Millions

New York (AP) — Twenty-one cops were accused yesterday of taking millions — money by the bushel basketful—to protect a $20,000,000 a year Brooklyn gambling ring.

"A picture of graft and corruption unbelievable," Assistant District Attorney Julius Helfand called it.

He said boss bookie Harry Gross strolled in and out of police stations for years, handing out payoff money and issuing orders to police.

Among the indicted officers were two former inspectors, who allegedly took expensive television sets as gifts from Gross.

The defendants—if convicted—face at least a year or more apiece in jail.

Helfand said Gross once huddled with high ranking police brass and a "bushel basket filled with money was collected."

Another time, Helfand claimed, one of the alleged co-conspirators, former Lt. George W. McGirr, took back to Gross $135,000 in graft payments and demanded the $500 and $1,000 bills be changed into lower denominations.

Helfand also said some of the indicted cops put up $45,000 so Gross could expand the bookie business that allegedly paid them off in millions of graft.

The well-dressed Gross, Helfand went on, made suggestions about police assignments and had crooked cops transferred where they would do him the most good.

The indictment also charged Gross had access to top-secret police department files.

Fifty other cops were named co-conspirators. They will not be prosecuted but will be available as witnesses against the accused policemen.

Relaxation Worst Foe, Says Truman

Washington, (AP)—Naming "relaxation" as the country's worst enemy at this moment, President Truman yesterday asked industry to buckle down under Federal controls for "the next two or three years at least."

The President told 600 leaders of the oil, power, fuel and mining industries that it is "foolish" and "impossible" to talk of abandoning price and wage ceilings.

"You ought to be asking Congress for higher taxes," he said. "But when you do that, be sure to urge them to extend price and wage controls too."

Addressing the industry advisory councils of the Interior department's defense agencies, Mr. Truman said his defense chiefs have a "definite, concrete" plan both to build the armed strength needed to deter Soviet aggression and to fight all-out war if the Kremlin is "reckless enough" to start one.

They laying aside his prepared text, the President delivered a little sermon on sticking to the job. He said:

"We have three enemies to overcome—one of them abroad and two of them at home."

"Aggression is the first; we're taking care of that in Korea. The second is inflation—that's a home product."

"Number three is the worst of all. It is relaxation. You businessmen can cure the tendency to relax every time there is a lull in hostilities. You can meet this situation head-on."

Dewey To Reveal Anti-Red Program

New York, (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's speech to the Republican State committee here today will outline his detailed program for the fight against "world-wide Communist aggression," his secretary said yesterday.

James G. Hagerly, the Governor's secretary, said the Governor also will discuss the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The speech at the third annual dinner of the State committee at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel will be broadcast nationally by the Columbia Broadcasting system from 10:30 to 11 p. m.

Cattle Receipts Drop Off As Price Rollback Starts

Chicago, (AP)—The government's new beef price rollback program went into effect yesterday. There were some cuts in wholesale prices but fewer animals were shipped to market.

Housewives in some cities may notice a few minor reductions in beef prices starting Monday. However, no important retail price change is expected until August 1. Retail ceilings will be rolled back four to five cents a pound then with another four to five cents slash due October 1.

Yesterday, dollars and cents price ceilings were placed on wholesale beef prices. That meant retailers bought their beef at or below a price ceiling fixed by government order.

A similar price ceiling fixed by the government will go into effect Monday in retail meat shops. These prices will vary slightly in the various geographical locations and in the types of stores.

Meanwhile cattle receipts at the country's 12 leading markets lagged for the third day in a row. They totaled 113,300 the first three days of this week, compared with 156,700 the same three days a week ago and 146,700 a year ago. The decline from last week amounts to 28 per cent.

In the Chicago wholesale meat market, the prices of all classes of beef declined from a week ago to conform with the ceilings. Good to prime beef was $1 to $3 a hundred pounds lower than a week ago while commercial grades were $5 to $6 lower.

In the Philadelphia market, prime steer beef was $1 to $1.80 lower a hundred pounds than Tuesday while choice and good grades declined 55 cents to $1. The OPS permitted a delay until Friday for full compliance, however, and further declines will be necessary to bring prices to ceiling limits.

Wholesale prices were unchanged in the New York market.

Trade sources said the ceiling generally would place wholesale beef prices at the price level existing in February but below those of March and April.

MacArthur To Doff Famed Braid Hat

New York, (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has been fitted by tailors for civilian clothing—for the first time in 11 years.

His aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, told newsmen yesterday he doesn't know when the ousted Far Eastern commander will doff his famed braid hat and uniform, however.

Big 4 Might Never Confer, Acheson Hints

Washington (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said yesterday United States has about come to the end of its rope in negotiating with the Russians on terms for a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting. His words implied that the whole project may fall through.

The Russians in their talks with American, British and French representatives at Paris are in effect demanding that the west suspend its defense program, Acheson said. He declared emphatically that is too high a price—a price the west cannot pay—for a Big Four meeting.

The aim of such a meeting would be to ease world tensions and try to make some progress toward real peace, Acheson said. The United States has presented plans for a conference which are the ultimate in reasonableness. But the foreign ministers' deputies, meeting in Paris to pave the way for the big parley, are deadlocked over what Acheson called Russia's outrageous insistence on its own kind of arms reduction formula.

Buyers Misled, Cooley Contends

Washington (AP) — Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture committee charged yesterday that consumers were being misled by the government's rollback of beef cattle prices.

Attacking the 10 per cent price rollback ordered this month by Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle, Cooley charged its only purpose was to "increase the profits of the processors."

Only after the processors are helped, Cooley told the House, does DiSalle "plan to come along and take nine cents a pound more out of the hides of cattle producers" to benefit the housewife.

He spoke after Rep. Sabath (D-Ill.) accused cattlemen of coming to Washington to fight price controls and "oppose everything that might help the consumer."

Big Air Blow Fails To Cause Much Damage

Tokyo, Thursday (AP) — Allied forces killed or routed 6,000 Korean Reds trying to flank Seoul from the west, an Eighth Army spokesman said today.

Republic of Korea (ROK) troops, supported by artillery and planes, smashed back two Red regiments between the Han river and the Seoul-Munsan road, 20 to 25 miles northwest of the old capital.

Elsewhere along the rugged, curving front, aggressive U.N. patrols met little or no resistance. The Communists apparently still were withdrawing to lick their wounds from the first phase of their bogged-down spring offensive.

Photographs and pilots' reports indicated that Wednesday's mass air strike by 312 planes against the Sinuiju airbase in Red northwest Korea—largest raid of the war—didn't inflict as much damage as at first anticipated.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force announced today destruction or damage of 95 buildings housing Red troops and supplies, a large fuel dump and five vehicles.

The report did not add appreciably to Wednesday's preliminary assessment of Red plane losses. It said one—instead of two—was destroyed on the ground and two damaged. Two Russian-built MIG-15 jets and one U. S. plane were damaged in dogfights.

Marine fliers said eight of their planes suffered minor damage from the heavy Communist anti-aircraft fire. Some of this fire came from Red guns on the Manchurian side of the border which U. N. policy barred the Allied planes from attacking.

However, the big strike may have beaten the Reds to the punch. Intelligence reports had indicated the Chinese were building up air strength to support a renewal of their ground offensive along central Korea.

At U. S. Eighth Army headquarters, AP Correspondent Robert Emsun reported that the Communists routed northwest of Seoul had threatened to make an end run around the western front and trap Allied forces above Seoul from the rear.

Emsun reported that, although the Reds now were pulling out generally on the western sector, one force still held an area east of the Seoul-Munsan road. About 1,000 of the enemy put up a stiff scrap Wednesday some 13 miles northwest of Seoul but pulled back under heavy artillery fire.

To the East, U. N. patrols punched north of Uijongbu, 11 miles north of Seoul, and above Chunchon—on the central front some 45 miles northeast of Seoul. Skirmishes were reported at points along Parallel 38 on the east-central front.

The Eighth Army reported an estimated 2,100 Reds killed or wounded Wednesday—presumably most of them northwest of Seoul.

The Red radio at Pyongyang, North Korean capital, boasted that more than 20,000 Allied troops were killed, wounded or captured between April 22 and April 30—during the Communist offensive. The report was not confirmed by any other source.

Continued slacking of Communist road traffic toward the front was noted by the Fifth Air Force.

Higher Price Ceilings Set

Washington (AP) — 'The' government yesterday set dollars-and-cents ceiling prices on wool, generally 65 to 70 per cent higher than before the outbreak of the Korean war last June.

Officials said the order will probably result in higher prices for wool clothing this fall and next spring.

The order, effective immediately, forbids dealers and manufacturers to pay more than $3.35 a pound for an average basic type of wool. For average top wool, the ceiling price is $4.13 a pound.

Prices were also set for alpaca and mohair and various grades of those fibers.

Inspections Completed By Firemen

Bangor — Firemen of the three Bangor companies have completed an inspection of houses and business places in the center of the borough. It was reported here yesterday.

The inspection, conducted Tuesday night, was recommended by fire department officials after the heavy loss of Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. fire here several weeks ago, and is being completed this week as a feature of a borough-wide clean up and paint up week ordered by Chief Burgess Hayden Pritchard.

A delegation of 40 firemen, headed by Fire Chief Ben Albert, inspected a total of 120 buildings and business places, finding only eight instances of violations in the entire inspection.

Chief Albert commended merchants and their property owners who kept their establishments open, so that there was no delay during the inspection.

He added that only four business places were uncooperative, and said those will be checked at a later date.

UJA Campaign Opens Tonight At Banquet

The 1951 United Jewish Appeal campaign will open today in Monroe county.

Local workers will meet in the Penn-Stroud hotel at 7 p.m. and officially get the campaign under way with a kick-off dinner meeting.

Quota for the county campaign, which will run through September, has been set at $15,000. The 1951 budget, set by the national UJA organization, is $203,684,577.

Heading the campaign efforts in this region are Dr. Neal Josephson and Maxwell H. Cohen.

Principal speaker at the dinner meeting will be Mollie Gladstone, director of arts and crafts for the Jewish Folks Institute of New York City.

She will relate some of her observations regarding the progress being made in Israel. Mrs. Gladstone went there with her late husband, a New York cantor, to study the progress of arts and sciences in the new Jewish State.

While there she witnessed all divisions of business, educational, social and community life. She also made an extensive study of housing problems in the rapidly expanding country.

Co-chairmen of the dinner-meeting committee are Benjamin Howitt and Theodore Getz.

Other committees and their chairmen who have been at work on arrangements for the affair are:

Kiwanis Club Entertained By Students

National Music week was observed by the Kiwanis club of Stroudsburg yesterday afternoon at the Penn-Stroud hotel. Entertainment was furnished by the concert artists of East Stroudsburg High school, presented by Clement Wiedinmyer, head of the music department of the school.

Program chairmen were Dr. W. R. Erickson and Walter H. Dreher, the former presenting Mr. Wiedinmyer, who was in charge of entertainment.

Lowell Fellman presented the opening number, playing the selection, "Autumn Dreams" on the baritone horn. He was followed by Johnny Eaton, who played Schumann's "Kenderscenen" as a piano solo.

The Girls' ensemble, Miss Betty Jo Goodall director and accompanist, were heard in three numbers, "Now Is the Month of Maying," "Thomas Morley," "Three Little Maids," Marjorie Elliott, and "The Little Worm," Sachs.

Those composing the ensemble were: Charlotte Bach, Charlotte Herman, Nancy Walters, Ar. Sutton, Elaine Papillon, Geraldine Chohey, Joan Alberts, Ruth Cramer, Pat Hartzel and Joan Dowling.

Concluding the program was a demonstration of snare drum techniques by Ray Fellman and the trumpet selection, "Fading Memories," by Sonny Eaton, accompanied by his brother, John. The program was well received and refreshments were served to the participants.

Dr. Paul Shiffer announced the X-ray campaign covering the entire county, May 14-27, urging all to avail themselves of the opportunity of chest examinations afforded and also requesting members to volunteer for motor transportation during that period. They were asked to give their names to Mrs. Ora Levering, in charge of this portion of the program.

Alfred W. Munson, principal of the Stroudsburg High school, announced the testimonial dinner to T. Manning (Cap) Curtis May 24, also plans for renewal of a dinner for the lettermen of the school and asking the support of club members for the latter event.

C. F. Grace, treasurer of the Kiwanis Fashion Frolics, read the report to date, which indicated a financial success in rehabilitation of the club's education fund. A. W. Williams, representing President Harold W. Leininger, expressed appreciation of the club to all who had participated in the show.

Alan W. Keiper reported on the progress being made with the proposed electric map project. J. S. Swartley is co-chairman.

President Leininger welcomed Rev. Seba H. Hamm, of the Bangor Kiwanis club, and R. D. Fitzgerald, Philadelphia, as guests. The invocation was given by Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlson.

Deadline Nears

Harrisburg (AP) — The State Selective Service headquarters yesterday warned Pennsylvania youths that May 15 is the deadline for mailing application cards for college qualification test.

Reapportionment Plan Proposes Wayne, Pike, Susquehanna Counties Be Transferred To 20th Congressional District

Harrisburg (AP) — A tentative congressional reapportionment plan unveiled yesterday calls for abolishment of two Republican seats and one Democratic seat.

The three districts are the 14th, now held by Rep. Wilson D. Gillette, Towanda Republican; the 15th, represented by Alvin R. Bush, Muncy Republican, and the 33rd, a seat now vacant because of the death of Frank Buchanan, McKeesport Democrat.

The plan, disclosed by an administration source who declined quotation by name, would comply with a requirement that Pennsylvania's congressional delegation be cut from 33 to 30 members.

Population changes shown by the 1950 census require the reduction. Unless reapportioned accordingly, the 30 congressmen would be elected on a statewide basis.

Chairman G. Graybill Diehm (R-Lancaster) of the Senate Reapportionment committee declined comment on the redistricting plan. He said, however, a congressional reapportionment bill is likely to be introduced in the General Assembly next week.

Diehm already has written off as a lost cause the job of redistricting the 50 Senate seats and 208 House places, a task that has not been done since 1921. Although available on a county basis, official census figures are not expected until too late for the 1951 legislature to redistrict assembly seats.

Behind-the-scenes discussion of reapportionment shared the legislative spotlight with a struggle by the administration to line up enough Senate votes to pass its one-half of one per cent income tax bill next week.

A new count showed five Republican senators in open opposition to the House-passed measure. The latest to join the ranks is Sen. John G. Snowden (R-Lycoming) who voted against releasing the bill from the Senate Finance committee Tuesday.

The remaining quartet of recalcitrant GOP senators comprises Sens. C. Arthur Blass (Erie), G. Robert Watkins (Delaware), Henry J. Probert (Montgomery) and Edward J. Kessler (Lancaster).

If their opposition continues, it would cut down the number of available GOP votes to 25, one less than is needed to pass a bill in the senate. The 20-vote Democratic minority is reported solid against the $119,000,000 levy.

Under the reapportionment plan, now receiving top consideration by the Diehm committee, the 13 counties in northern Pennsylvania that now comprise the 14th and 15th districts would be redistributed to five other districts.

Gillette's 14th district includes Bradford, Sullivan, Columbia, Montour, Wyoming, Susquehanna, Wayne and Pike counties. The 15th district, represented by Bush, comprises McKean, Potter, Tioga, Cameron, Clinton and Lycoming counties.

Republican-dominated Pike, Wayne and Susquehanna counties would go to the 20th district, a seat now held by Rep. Francis E. Walter, Easton Democrat. His district now includes Monroe, Carbon and Northampton counties.

The 10th district, now limited to Lackawanna county, would be broadened to include Republican counties like Bradford, Wyoming, Sullivan and Lycoming. The 10th district is now represented by Rep. Harry P. O'Neill, Scranton Democrat.

The remainder of Gillette's 15th district would be assigned to two other districts now controlled by Republicans.

Clinton County would become a part of the 22nd district which now includes Centre, Clearfield and Blair counties. The seat is now held by Rep. James E. Van Zandt, Altoona Republican.

The far-flung 19th district, represented by Rep. Leon H. Gavin, Oil City Republican, would be extended farther east under the plan. McKean, Potter, Tioga and Cameron counties would be tied into the area that now includes Venango, Warren, Forest, Clarion, Jefferson and Elk counties.

Rep. Ivor D. Fenton's 12th district, now composed of Schuylkill and Northumberland counties, would also include Columbia and Montour counties from the 14th district. He is a Mahanoy City Republican.

Plugging The Loopholes

The harried taxpayer heaves a sigh of gratitude over steps taken by Auditor General Weldon B. Heyburn to prevent possibilities of rackets developing in the way of "free services" at state hospitals.

Heyburn has just demanded that the Department of Revenue use the "utmost care" in determining the "credit status" of each patient at the hospitals. His stand followed a report from departmental auditors that in the last fiscal year the state wrote off as uncollectible $363,381 for treatments at the Scranton State Hospital. This sum, startlingly enough, was more than twice the amount, $180,409, collected from paying patients.

Mental patients and others with a widely-varying types of ills are treated at these state hospitals. In many cases, quite obviously, they have to be public wards. In other cases, they have close relatives fully able to pay for their care and their treatment. In some cases, it is even suspected that relatives have had the patients assigned such institutions because of the feeling that they would be saving money by so doing. And then, too often, good intentions to pay are dulled.

Auditor General Heyburn is fulfilling an obligation in taking strong measures. His suggestion that accounts unpaid after 90 days be referred to the Department of Justice should be followed implicitly. The heavily-laden taxpayer deserves any relief that plugging of loopholes at state hospitals might provide.

Republican Conventions

When the Republican National Committee meets in Tulsa this Friday, May 11, to select the time and place for next year's gathering of the delegates, it will be learned whether the GOP is to return to Philadelphia again or whether one of the other half-dozen cities still in the running has gained the nomination.

Both major political parties held their 1948 conventions in Philadelphia's huge auditorium on the banks of the Schuylkill, and the City of Brotherly Love is doing its utmost to have them return there next year, with a slight assist from some of the other eastern cities.

Of course, Chicago cannot be ruled out as it beats the drum for a return of the big gatherings to the Windy City. Because of its central location, Chicago has been chosen by the Republicans 11 times out of 21, and by the Democrats seven times in the same period.

In pre-Civil War days, Baltimore always got the conventions because travel was difficult, Washington was only 40 miles away, and a lot of the prominent figures in those conventions were in Congress or in the government even as they are today.

Only once did the Republicans cross the Mississippi for their convention, and that was in 1928 when they nominated Herbert Hoover at Kansas City. But the Democrats moved out there four times: in 1900 to Kansas City and in 1908 to Denver, each time picking Bryan, and to San Francisco for the Cox nomination in 1920 and Houston for the Al Smith one in 1928.

And this is one to remember as the planning and plotting for 1952 gets underway: only once since the Civil War have the Republicans failed to meet earlier than the Democrats, and that was in 1888. It will be interesting to see who holds off this time, especially with the Eisenhower situation still unsolved.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Palmer Hoyt, editor of the Denver Post, told George Allen the story of a Utah citizen named Al Packer, white, single, and Republican, who set out with five companions on a gold hunting expedition in 1873. Some two months later Packer returned alone, suspiciously well-heeled, and soon ugly stories were in circulation. Packer was finally brought to trial, charged with killing—and eating!—the other five. He was convicted and sentenced to be hanged. The jury was solidly Republican, but the Judge, M. B. Gerry, was a Democrat.

He thundered, "Alfred Packer, you man-eating scoundrel, stand up! I hereby sentence you, you depraved Republican cannibal, to hang by the neck till dead. There were only six Democrats in this county, and by God, you've eaten five of them!"

A befuddled mathematics professor awoke one morning to find his feet on the pillow and his head hanging over the foot of the bed. He grumbled to his wife, "Here I was convinced I was suffering from a headache—and it's just my corns aching!"

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — "Viveca," said Viveca Lindfors, "is from the Latin, and it has something to do with 'life.' 'Land' is Swedish for linden tree, and 'fors' means a little stream."

And there'd be no nicer companion—for a philosophical discussion of life, under a tree beside a stream—than Viveca Lindfors. For there's more of the philosopher than you might suspect behind Viveca's big blue eyes and strong, lovely features. Here four years from her native Sweden, she used to worry a lot: Were her hair, clothes, and shoes right for the scene? Were her two children eating and wearing the right things while she was at the studio? Would they catch cold?

"This is a town where people worry a lot," Miss Lindfors said between "Skid Row" scenes. "Your present picture and your next one. What people will say and think about you. But worrying is a terrific waste of time." What stopped her from it? "My own unhappiness—and my husband," she said. Don Siegel, her second husband, directed Viveca's first Hollywood picture. "He helped me to take things less seriously," she declared.

Viveca said acting has taught her that "living for the second" is important. "If we concentrate 100 per cent on the work we are doing just now, we get wonderful results. When the camera rolls and you concentrate on being that person, on saying that line, you can't even think ahead of the line."

The movie capital has a deflating effect on over-anxious importers, Miss Lindfors has found. "In Sweden, if you're a star, you feel you're quite important. Here, if you fall down there are a hundred to take your place."

But she would offer no advice to other hopeful arrivals. "Everybody has to learn his own lesson." She mused: "You can only do the best you can in life. God will do the rest. If you try to be open to things, to absorb the good things with the bad—and if you just don't worry—things will work out very nicely."

That's what four years in Hollywood have taught one of its loveliest ladies.

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

Automatic It used to be said of the fire-horse that when he (or was it a she) heard a gong, he just automatically went to the wagon to be hitched. Automatics must be studied carefully by child psychologists, perhaps to make humans imitate the obsolete fire-horse. A good way to start the training would perhaps be a course in eavesdropping with Miss Vernice Anderson as the teacher, she having scooped the world in doing automatically what parents used to tell children they should not do at all, namely, eavesdrop. Miss Anderson makes the point that when she stood behind a door and listened to the conversation between General MacArthur and President Truman, she did it automatically. She also took down her stenographic notes automatically. She did not destroy the notes automatically but kept them and gave them to her boss, Dr. Philip Jessup, of the state department and the Institute of Pacific Relations, automatically.

Washington Report

Washington — The education of most members of the U. S. Senate has been neglected sadly in regard to the Richard Sorge spy case. I shall do my best to rectify this gap in their learning.

When Gen. Douglas MacArthur mentioned Richard Sorge, Senator Richard Russell, chairman of the Joint Committee, said he had never heard of the case. Hearing this, the general urged the committee to call Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, until recently chief of the Far East Intelligence Division. He said Willoughby is "full" of the case. So am I.

Sorge worked for the Foreign Bureau of Soviet International Espionage. This gang of cut-throats operates a world-wide espionage net, spying out military and diplomatic secrets for the Kremlin. It directed the Canadian Espionage ring, in which dozens of U. S. and Canadian Communists were involved. Whenever the fourth bureau is operating, it sends instruction sheets out to spies. They are signed "organizer," usually, but in the event the boss man of the Fourth Bureau issues an order, it is signed "director."

Sorge, who helped soften up China for Communist conquest, got his orders from the Fourth Bureau from 1929 through 1940. During this period the U. S. Department of State, aided by the Baltimore Bugle, Owen Lattimore, and his playmates, kept up a drumfire of criticism about Chiang Kai-Shek. And all the while they were talking, Sorge and his pals were stealing Chinese military secrets and feeding them to the Communists.

Sorge was quite a boy. He was a veteran of the German army, twice wounded, who wandered off to Moscow in search of adventure. He found it. The Reds put him on the payroll as a spy, sent him to school and eventually planted him in Japan as an assistant to the German ambassador there. Sorge wound up with about 400 people working for him, including 125 Americans. He took his orders on occasion from Gerhart Eisler, the "refugee" pal of new dealers who sneaked out of the U. S. to avoid jail when the House committee on un-American activities got on his trail.

Gen. Willoughby supplied U. S. authorities with the names of the Americans who Sorge said gave him a helping hand. Naturally, along with the names of those involved in the Canadian Espionage Ring, the White House buried the list in the "File and Forget" department.

Agnes Smedley was one of those Sorge named. Here are a couple of more whose identity will be disclosed before long. "Jacob," a young American newspaper reporter, gathered political information from foreigners for Sorge. Another American, a young employee of the American consulate, brought in economic and political news to Sorge that proved useful to the Russians. There are 123 more.

When the Senate committee taking Gen. MacArthur's testimony passed up a chance to call Gen. Willoughby, Senator Pat McCarran, the Nevada Democrat, stepped in. He has issued an invitation to Gen. Willoughby to appear before the senate subcommittee on internal security. Senator Homer Ferguson, a member of the subcommittee, has been in touch with the general and says he has an interesting story to tell.

Willoughby is in an army hospital in California at the moment, so he won't be in Washington for a week or so. But don't go away. When he gets here you'll get an earful, including some choice links between the Sorge spy ring and the Institute of Pacific Relations. The IPR, you'll recall, is Ambassador-at-large Philip Jessup's baby. Even though Jessup had to admit the Institute took Russian money, the State Department continues to use the IPR as a source of information on the far east.

That is an awful lot of automatic action for a young lady and represents a high degree of aptitude in the field. She was brought on from Washington to Wake Island apparently to serve orange juice and other liquors, the others not being specified in any of the accounts given, but it might be presumed that automatic bourbon was included. However, that is a matter of speculation and not pertinent to automatic responses, which is the subject of this course of study.

I also would include key-hole peeping in this course for the young. There is nothing in the record to show that Miss Anderson has any aptitude for that. She apparently has cultivated her ears rather than her eyes and is able to hear through walls and closed doors. The peep-holes will have to be found elsewhere in the state department or in central intelligence.

Children would gain great knowledge quickly if they could just peep through keyholes, particularly after they had been ordered to bed. It might improve them more effectively than television, which is in the open and therefore evokes no special skills. Automatic peep-holing could be developed into a fine art with prizes given each year by the freedom foundation for those who never fail.

King Lardner spent years (as a top sports-writer) gathering material for his "Alibi Ike" and "You Know Me, Al" character studies of Big-Headed hall-follies. Alibi Ike was actually modeled after a well known outfielder. Lardner gave him a copy of the story. The next day the enraged "Ike" stormed into his office.

"How could you do this to me?" he yelled. "I should see you!"

"But," butted Ring, "I didn't mention your name."

"That's the trouble," groaned the Ham. "Nobody knows it's me!"

From the front pages: "Pulitzer Prizes Announced! No award for year's best national reporting. No reason given." Holy, Macri!!!

Jack Barry tells of the psychiatrist visited by a frantic patient, who came in screaming: "I have no talent! I can't sing! I can't dance! I can't tell gags! I want to quit show business!"

"So," shrugged the medico, "why don't you?"

"I can't," was the Retort Ridic. "I'm a Star!"

Jimmy Nelson, the ventriloquist, says he can remember when the Chinese took in washing instead of Washington.

Item: "MacArthur was asked why he commuted between New York and Washington for the hearings. His reply was inaudible. He chuckled and went on."

How ya gonna keep him down on the farm after he's seen Broadway?

Marjorie Lunsford, a pretty cocktail room waitress, has a neat stuffer for patrons who use profanity. The other midnight Joe College was trying to shock her, punctuating his comments (to other students) with: "He's an ess-oh-bee and his crowd's a lotta bds!"

To which Marjorie smiled: "Now, now, Mr. Truman!"

Headline: "Rita Hayworth Slips Off to Reno." Aiy-ops!

Item: "Farouk weds 17 year old he wooed from commoner." The "something borrowed" at that wedding was the bride.

Jack Koford (Miami Herald) did an essay the other morning titled: "There's Good in Most Men With Blackened Reputations." Then he related some items about several recent Kefauveres — their charities — Christmas dinners and old folks, etc.

"Let me make it clear," the author added, "that this isn't intended as any sort of justification for the things of which these men are accused. It's meant to throw a little light on the less-publicized side of their personalities."

Veriwell, but when Walter does it Jacques' paper scolds him for "trying to 'whitewash' the underworld." Ho-hummmmm.

some observations concerning Miss Vernice Anderson's boss, Philip Jessup, who is one of the high muck-mucks in the state department. He seems to be involved in everything, having come to that department from a professorship of International Law at Columbia University and the Institute of Pacific Relations. He has been active in helping the country run its foreign relations, on and off, since 1924, but really did not mature until 1945, since when he has really been a big factor, second only in influence and prestige to Dean Acheson. He goes to all the conferences and makes speeches on great matters. He has never had any far eastern experience but purports to be an expert on the subject through his connections with the Institute of Pacific Relations whose files the McCarran committee is now studying. He has generally been identified with those other far eastern experts whose predilections brought us to our present dismay.

Curious that the eavesdropping Miss Anderson, whose automatics led her to take down an off-the-cuff, unrecorded conversation between the President and General MacArthur, should be working for Dr. Philip Jessup!

These things can, of course, become automatic, or what we used to call, second nature. For instance, it used to be second nature for small boys to peep-hole through the ball park fence. That was second nature, like jumping into a swimming hole or putting a garter snake in a bottle or putting a little girl's hair in the ink-jelly. Second nature can be something awful if you fail to curb it. Automatic possesses an additional quality because it requires training in some such place as the state department.

And that automatically leads to

In a tiny flat over a shop in Tonbridge, England, Prince Serge Belosselsky - Belozersky departed this life a few days ago.

It matters not for the purpose of these observations that once he was a Cossack general, an aide de camp to the last Czar of the Russians, commander of a division of the Imperial Russian army.

Nor does it matter that he was an intimate of emperors, dukes, and princes.

What does matter is that after fleeing from his vast estate during the Russian revolution in 1917 and going into exile in England, life was finished for him.

He referred to his after-the-glory existence as "the life of a cabbage."

Let us forget about the prince as an individual and take him as a symbol.

There is an old song "Among my Souvenirs" I can hum the melody, but I don't quite recall the words.

But I do recall that it is something about somebody who be- wails "there is nothing left for me" but memories, and who therefore sits among his souvenirs and lives "the life of a cabbage."

I didn't know that Russian prince.

But I wish I could have visited him at that tiny Tonbridge flat.

Can't you just imagine his Royal Highness receiving us?

Probably he would have worn his faded uniform of a general. Probably there would have been

It's too late for Prince Serge to do anything about the garden, but all you dreamers who live in a cabbage patch, why don't you get out the shovel and the fertilizer? I'm sure the cabbage will turn into flowers again.

There are millions of us who are living the life of a cabbage. The PAST is all that matters. There was everything that was worthwhile.

There in that PAST the world was a garden of roses. Today is but a cabbage patch.

But do you know WHY the beautiful garden of dreams has turned into a cabbage patch of reality?

Because that garden has not been cultivated. Because that very same soil which produced the lovely roses could have produced so many OTHER flowers, year after year, if the gardener had only kept on working the soil rather than just admiring it and himself.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Spring Story The Miracle of the Resurrection has taken place in field and garden, in yard and street . . . Through leaf and bud and flower has come the testament to the everlasting life. The lilac in the shadow of the old barn has told overnight the deathless story more convincingly than preachers in great cathedrals through the ages . . . The gnarled apple by the woodshed has removed in the twinkling of an eye the doubt fought by evangelists for 2,000 years.

Now from the back porch the stone is seen to be rolled away through a wondrous screen of dogwood and cherry blossom . . . Death flames into life through the daffodil and crocus saying "I am the life," where the hard crusty earth loomed a few days back . . . "He is not here; he is risen!" is wafted through the magnolia and pear trees . . . In the patch of violets beside a ragged fence is the message, "Put in thy finger and be not faithless, but believing!" . . . In the tulip is seen the Chalice of the Last Supper, and through every blooming flower and green- ing leaf come the words, "A little while, and now ye shall not see Me; and again a little while, and ye shall see Me." . . .

All winter the gaunt trees have been the symbol of Gethsemane . . . The bare shrubbery has been stern narrator of the betrayal in the garden and the anguish on Golgotha . . . There had been something crosslike in the shadow of every tree on the cold barren ground . . . Through the bleak countryside one seemed to hear the voices of the scoffers at the crucifixion . . . All nature had appeared dead, with the guard set over it . . . And now, as if by the waving of a wand, life and beauty bloom! . . . Warmth and glory return! . . . Hope and faith are fortified in a breath-taking sermon beyond the power of man to deliver.

Through the scanty blossoms in a cracked flower pot in a tenement window the first flowers of an azalea beside an East side hotel, the crushing beauty of a flowering hillside is flashed the picture of "Mary Magdalen and Mary the Mother of James and Salome very early in the morning, the sun being now risen," hearing the comforting words "Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, Who was crucified; He is risen; He is not here." . . . In every garden breeze is the odor of sweet spices.

From every willow bow comes a benediction . . . In every brook a litany . . . The countless dandelions, like myriads of altar candles flashing against an altar cloth of green, bring the spell of the "pure and holy mysteries." . . . From pansy bed and arbutus comes "I am the power and the glory!" . . . From the lowliest blossom in the rockiest and drabdest field comes "I am the resurrection and the life!" Now in the miracle of spring is faith revived and fortified by a glance from the window of home, factory, office, train, hospital, bivouac and prison . . . Here from the back porch is seen by Christian eyes the greatest story ever told. And there is no religion or sect which does not find in it soul-stirring influences sustaining belief in some basic and universal teachings. Thanks, Spring, for the super production!

The Real News Newsreel A dentist has been arrested charged with hi-jacking a truckload of nylon. With the usual command "Open wider!" of course . . . Now that Irving Sherman has come in would you call it Sherman's march to Kefauver C. C.? . . . Joe Louis looks so slow he could be fighting under a U. N. directive . . . Most inexcusably overlooked Kentucky Derby winner by experts in years was Count Turf. By breeding he was a natural, he had beaten the favorite Battle Morn and was last year's winner of the Youthful Stakes. Not one of the 74 sports writers and experts polled by AP picked him. And we failed to find one who even mentioned him . . . Talk of Washington is the way General MacArthur foiled the carefully laid plan to have him deflated by Senator MacMahon as the administrative top cross examiner. Mac "surrounded him." . . . Jack Amiel, whose horse won the recent Derby, is a Broadway bar and restaurant owner who once peddled soda pop at the ball parks.

As Harry May See It Mac is stamped, I'm afraid, "Guaranteed Not to fade."

TB Society Postpones Its Election

The election of officers and adoption of a new constitution and by-laws were postponed last night by Monroe County Tuberculosis society pending a decision from Pike County Tuberculosis committee on possible merger of operations.

Winston S. Bailey, field service representative of Pennsylvania Tuberculosis & Health society which recommended the merger to units in both counties, advised last night that Pike county's decision in the matter would be delayed until a meeting about the middle of June.

Officers and directors of the local society decided that election of officers and directors at this time would be impossible since Pike county, if favorable to the merger, will have representative on both the executive office group and the board of directors.

Similarly, changes in constitution and by-laws cannot be made. The board did, however, adopt a budget which will cover 1951 operations. A merger with Pike county will necessitate suitable revisions since the extensive Monroe County program would be extended to Pike county.

An audit of TB society accounts made by Herbert B. Crane, certified public accountant, was read by Morris Evans, treasurer, and received.

Carl T. Secor, president, reported that excellent cooperation has been received from various industrial plants which will send employees to the free X-ray units scheduled to be operating all over Monroe county next week.

Mrs. Estelle Fleming, executive secretary, said all phases of the free X-ray program for everybody 18 years old and up are functioning satisfactorily.

Mrs. Andrew Teachman, Matamoras, asked the society to provide a speaker and movie on TB work at the three-county Pomona Grange program scheduled for Tannersville Grange hall Saturday, May 19. Both will be provided.

Others present at the meeting were Mrs. Gordon Savage, secretary; Mrs. Nelson Beers, Mrs. W. R. Levering, Dr. Harold Pond, H. G. Heller and Dr. Walter H. Caulfield.

Former Bangor Resident Dies

Bangor — Mrs. Grace Stiles, 72, widow of Horace J. Stiles, and a former Bangor resident, died Tuesday night at the home of a son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert Martin, of Tamaqua. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Hough funeral home, Bangor. Rev. Dr. J. Frederick Stoltz, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, will officiate. Burial will be in St. John's cemetery.

From 12 To 50 Members In Two Years Is Story Of Band At State Teachers College

Notre Dame had its Four Horsemen and Seven Mules. And East Stroudsburg State Teachers College had its Faithful Twelve.

Two years ago that's what the newly reactivated college band was called. It was barely existing then. Both a surplus of uniforms and musicians seem non-existent.

But by last May things began to look more rosy for Dr. Donald B. Corson, director of the band, and his Faithful Twelve.

Farm Program For 1952 Is Aired Here

Development of the 1952 farm program in Monroe county was the topic of discussion this week when the Monroe County Agricultural Mobilization committee held a special meeting at the Production and Marketing administration office in the court house.

Three directors of the Monroe County Soil Conservation district, Donald de Otte, of Cherry Valley; Arlington W. Martin, of Effort area, and William High, of Effort, were special guests at the session.

A fourth soil district director, Robert Warner, of Pocono Lake, is vice-chairman of the county PMA board, and in that capacity is a member of the mobilization committee.

Several community committeemen, David H. Griffith, PMA chairman; Warner, Chris Sautter, PMA member; Altee F. Rebert, soil district consultant; Wilmer B. Frisbie, high school vocational agriculture supervisor, and Kenneth Craft, farmer field man, also attended.

The mobilization meeting, which began at 1:30 p. m., was preceded by a PMA meeting at 10 a. m.

MacArthur On Inspection Trip

New York (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur went on an inspection tour this week—to look over some blossoming dogwood.

His unannounced trip to Connecticut led to a lot of speculation. Some people thought he was house-hunting. Others suggested it was a business trip.

Upon MacArthur's return, however, his aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, said the ousted Far Eastern commander read about Connecticut's spring dogwood and decided to "inspect it."

Whitney was asked if the five-star general saw James Rand of Remington Rand, Inc. MacArthur reportedly is ready to become the firm's board chairman at $10,000 a year.

The aide smiled and said nothing.

Va. and Miss Louise Ellison both students at Linden Hall, Lititz, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cruise and Miss Sue Cruise.

X-Ray Units Begin Work Next Tuesday

Mass X-rays of all Monroe county residents from 18 years of age upward will begin next Tuesday, May 15, covering such communities as Kunkletown, Skytop, Brodheadsville and Barrett and the surrounding territories of each.

Mobile X-ray units sent here by the Pennsylvania Department of Health will be stationed in these communities at these stated hours:

Kunkletown 10 a. m. to noon; Skytop from 10 a. m. to noon; Brodheadsville school, 2 p. m. to 5 p. m., 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.; Barrett school, 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. and 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Door-to-door contacts have been made all over the county in addition to appeals to all types of organizations to have every person 18 years of age or older have a free X-ray taken during the next week.

Some of the door-to-door workers in Stroudsburg include:

First ward, Mrs. John Rumsey, Mrs. Russell Bergman, Mrs. Clarence Seip, Mrs. Ed Doran, Mrs. Earl Amhurst and Mrs. John Possinger.

Second ward, Mrs. James Cummings, Mrs. Earl Winchester, Mrs. Richard Madigan, Mrs. Samuel Everett, Mrs. Peter Wyckoff, Mrs. Victor Koch, Mrs. William Palmer, Mrs. James Gavin.

Third ward, Mrs. Donald Gilpin, Miss Francis Everett, Miss Lulu Shaffer, Mrs. Merle Stevenson, Mrs. Sidney Cohen, Mrs. Howard Altemose Sr., Mrs. Charles Cincotta Jr.

Fourth ward, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Warren Mikels, Mrs. Floyd Fetherman, Mrs. Richard Feller, Mrs. Mildred Peters, Mrs. Paul Fetherman and Mrs. Frank Coyne, Mrs. Howard Miller.

Fifth ward, Mrs. Grant Nitrauer, Mrs. Floyd Bachman, Mrs. Rodger Wheaton, Mrs. George T. Robinson, Mrs. J. Albert Groner, Mrs. J. E. Arnold and Mrs. Walter Stannard.

Plans were made for a card party at the center on Wednesday, May 16, and the annual dinner at the Hotel Easton in Easton on Monday, May 21.

Bill Calls For Licensing Agents

Harrisburg (AP)—The General Assembly yesterday passed a bill authorizing local agents to issue motor boat licenses in Pennsylvania. The bill went to the Governor for action.

Bids For Certain Stages Of Tobyhanna Depot May Be Asked Within Next Month

Philadelphia—Col. Ralph Cruse of the Corps of U. S. Army Engineers in Philadelphia district said yesterday bids for certain stages of the new $30,000,000 Army Signal Corps depot at Tobyhanna will be asked in all likelihood within the next three or four weeks.

Among the first phases of the program listed is grading of the 1,400-acre area which will house the depot.

Col. Cruse said the building area is to be enclosed by a metal fence. He said the entire project is still in the planning stage. The firm of Gilroy, O'Malley and Stopper, Scranton and Philadelphia, is preparing the project plans.

East Stroudsburg Band Takes Trip To New York City

East Stroudsburg High school band members will have to crawl out of bed mighty early this morning.

At 7 a. m., a chartered bus will take them to New York City where they will spend the day as guests of the Band Mothers' association.

Plans for the day call for a three-hour excursion boat tour of the city, a show at the Radio City Music hall and a professional ball game.

Small Forest Fire Quickly Extinguished

Only one small forest fire was reported yesterday in the Monroe-Pike area, and that blaze, which broke out in Shohola township in northern Pike, was put down after burning only a few acres, District Forester E. Clyde Pyle said last night.

Another fire, which burned in the Saw Creek section west of Bushkill in southern Pike and northern Monroe county late Tuesday, was finally stopped late Tuesday night, the forester reported.

Crews from Bushkill and Dingmans Ferry gained control of that fire at 10 p. m. Tuesday.

The spot blaze in more distant Shohola township burned for only a short time yesterday. Pyle said it was promptly extinguished by northern Pike patrols, although reports poured in yesterday from residents of northern Pike who smelled smoke for hours at a time.

Poor visibility yesterday hindered rangers in checking the vast tract from the towers, so a plane was ordered into the air to inspect questionable areas and patrol the Pike woods.

No fire was located, Pyle said, although the reports of smoke-fumed air persisted.

The district forester attributed the acid odor to fire in distant areas. He observed that early winds yesterday were northerly and blew over vast sections of New York state forest land before reaching Pike county.

In mid-afternoon, the winds shifted and came out of the west, he added.

Rangers, meantime, turned their attention to weather reports, searching for any indication of rain which might wet down the forests and eliminate or at least minimize the fire hazard. Showers were predicted for northeast portions of the State last night or early this morning.

Two Hospital Auxiliaries Compile Official Program For Dedication Ceremonies

The official dedication program compiled by the Barrett auxiliary to General hospital and the Anna Logan society of the hospital, will be given to visitors attending the dedication and opening days' ceremonies this Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Robert Miller was chairman and Mrs. Raymond Price co-chairman of the dedication booklet which has just come off the presses.

Committee in charge consists of Mrs. William R. Levering, publicity; Mrs. Horace Butler, secretary; Mrs. T. I. Metzgar, treasurer. They have asked the cooperation of the public in accepting distribution to adult members of the family.

The committee is grateful for support from many sources in producing the dedication booklet and to purchasers of tickets for the Anna Logan society dance set for Saturday night. Dancing will continue from 9 p. m. to midnight with music furnished by Lew Stanley and His Nighthawks in the ballroom of the Penn-Stroud hotel.

There will be entertainment during the party. Dress is optional to all who attend.

Monies derived from this event will be used to re-furnish the nurses' home at the hospital.

Mrs. John Stanford and Mrs. Neil Josephson are co-chairmen for the dance. Tickets may be secured from them, any members of the society, at the ballroom door or Kresge's, Rea & Derick, Flagler's Drug stores, Hanford Cleveland's store, Wyckoff's tea room, Biggs restaurant and Colonial Diner.

Gallagher Posts Bail For Court

VFW Invites Public To Post Service

A large percentage of the Thomas P. Lambert VFW post's 870 members turned out at a post meeting this week to welcome the newly elected commander, Franklin E. Weller.

Plans were made for the post memorial service, which will be held Sunday, May 27, at 3 p.m. in the post home. The public is invited to attend.

It was announced that National Commander Charles C. Ralls, who visited the local post earlier this year, will be honored by the VFW's 20th district Friday, May 18, at the Palmerton VFW post.

Toastmaster for the affair will be Atty. Elmer D. Christine, past commander of the Lambert post and State judge advocate. Several local veterans are planning to attend.

Six delegates were elected to the Eastern Pennsylvania Counties council. They are Edward Tweedie, C. Y. Nevill, George Straka, Paul Weary, George Hughes and John Darr.

Chosen as alternates were Fred Hoffman, Victor Morman, Darrell Gehris, Ralph Edinger, Raymond Butz and Floyd Borger.

Thomas Shiffer, sports committee chairman, presented three trophies to the post won by the post's basketball team during the past season. Floyd Borger, bowling chairman, presented a plaque to the post won in recent competi-

Police Hunt For Missing Man In River

Pennsylvania State police at Milford and Stroudsburg were alerted yesterday as a search for a missing Port Jervis, N. Y., man began in the Port Jervis area.

According to New York State police at Middletown, N. Y., Joseph Drinko, Jr., of Port Jervis, was believed to have drowned in the Delaware at 2 p. m. on Tuesday.

Chief Fred Decker, of Delaware Water Gap; Chief Jesse Felker, of Portland; Interstate bridge officers at Portland and Stroudsburg State police patrols were all notified of the apparent drowning, and checks were made in their respective river areas.

The missing man was five feet 11 inches tall, weighed 160 pounds, and had light brown hair.

Pennsylvania authorities were notified when searchers on the scene found that the missing man possibly could have been washed downstream in the river's faster flowing currents.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1951

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—You may think day's conditions seem inconsistent, hard to cope with. Maybe it's also your "look-see" your attitude. Be open to further knowledge and the right way will "hit" you soon.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Some favorable stimulating aspects, some not so. Choose course carefully, then stick to it in clever Taurus manner. Turn eyes in various directions, not seem difficult but will pay.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Writers, reporters, actors, salesmen, promoters of large deals or ordinary business plans, take heed and be encouraged. Be sure you know what you are about, but let nothing stop you from trying.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Personal affairs, domestic problems can be solved satisfactorily if you are running true to your better self. Some caution with money important, other things should be easier.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Go along with the successful, those in the know, if you feel they are on the right course. Don't depend upon speed but rather quality and intelligence in handling your tasks, duties.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—Where there's a will there's a way should be your day's motto. It will mean much. If the suggestion is followed, in rounding out a gainful day. Learn to relax, have some fun.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Should be fairly active, productive day for you well balanced, keen of perception natives. Spin your way around in cheerful, friendly way and things will just sort of come to you.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—May have to hold back a few hours (if you have formulated solid plans for day's action. Your intuition may play important part in day's program. Watch things carefully.

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—May be temptation to exaggerate and to pass on rumor, they can boomerang, cause needless trouble. Forget personal wishes awhile and things generally should shape up today.

December 24 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Personal and business interests will need smarter handling now. Day holds little patience with you who take undue or foolish chances. Be your better self for better results.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Check over money and property matters early. Don't over-spend budget or take on extra debts that could as well be avoided. Take things in stride with the tools and help you have at hand.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Don't let little differences or minor matters disrupt an otherwise happy outlook. Mostly up to you whether you will come through with fine day or not. Be adequate, you can.

YOU BORN TODAY are in an artistic and practical Sign, Taurus. Can succeed especially in manufacturing, mining, building, promoting and contracting of general business. Also many journalists, public entertainers are under this highly versatile Sign. But don't expect the family to show all the affection; remember we all like to hear compliments as well as corrections. You are a door in between the times you are a dreamer, and are deep of nature. Mind the appetite, don't overdo for goals. Birthdate of: Rouget de Fléto, composer of the "Marseillaise"; Jas. Vincent Bryce, Brit. jurist, historian, statesman.

Large Number Attracted To Record School

The second cooking school session sponsored by The Daily Record yesterday morning in the Sherman theater attracted another large crowd of women representing all sections of the county who again evidenced great interest in money-saving, tasty cooking techniques.

Once again Miss Grace Shankweiler and Miss Katherine Guldin, representatives of the home economics department of Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. conducted a highly interesting and informative session dealing with current food problems and new home economies so essential to the modern housewife.

L. H. Cross, advertising manager of The Daily Record, welcomed the ladies to the school session. One of four being held every other Wednesday, yesterday's developed several new themes.

Next cooking school will be held in the Sherman theater Wednesday morning, May 23.

Twelve large bags filled with Flagstaff foods, Spaulding bread and cake, Monroe Co-Operative milk as well as individual home cases of Coca-Cola were given away.

Howard Atwell of Radio Station WVPO, who introduced the home economists and participated in announcing various phases of the program, aided Mr. Cross and Foster Rough of PP&L in presenting the awards.

Recipients of food bags and Coca-Cola were:

Albert Fisher, East Stroudsburg; Mrs. Howard Mering, Stroudsburg; Gertrude Ayers, Cresco; Mrs. George LaBar, East Stroudsburg; Margaret Gilliland, East Stroudsburg; Mrs. G. Snyder, Stroudsburg; Mrs. Joseph Smith, East Stroudsburg; Mrs. Anna Drake, Stroudsburg; Mrs. Emerson Stanton, East Stroudsburg; Mrs. J. S. Possinger, East Stroudsburg; Freda Coco, Stroudsburg.

Various articles prepared at the session were awarded to the following:

Mrs. N. N. Guillot, Bushkill; Mrs. John F. Albert, Stroudsburg; Mrs. Harry Serfass, Stroudsburg;

Chestnuthill High Places First In FFA Rifle Shoot

Chestnuthill township High school's Future Farmers of America chapter won first place in the sixth annual Pocono Area FFA rifle tournament. The four-member team rolled up a winning total of 294 points. The tournament was held on the Stroudsburg High school rifle range. A total of 24 FFA members from six area chapters took part in the shoot.

The winning sharpshooters' team was made up of Buskirk, Nelson, Serfass and Howell. Each boy shot ten shots standing and ten prone.

Polk Township High school's team came in second with a total of 289 points. Bangor High was third with a total of 285.

High individual scorer was Butz of Stroudsburg High school. He scored a total of 140 points. Hall, of Pocono High school, was next with a point total of 134.

H. W. Woodley, adviser to Stroudsburg High school's Onawa rifle club, was the official scorer. He was assisted by vocational agriculture teachers and W. B. Frisbie, tri-county vocational agriculture supervisor.

The Pocono Area FFA tractor driving contest, which is also an annual affair, will be held at Chestnuthill High school, Brodheads-ville, Thursday at 4 p. m. A bronze plaque will be awarded the winning team.

Canadian officials believe that Canada, then New France, took the first census of modern times in 1666.

Renovations Start Soon

Bangor — Work on renovating the Bangor Bee Hive building to provide an additional 750 square feet of floor space for youth activities will begin next week.

Permission to enlarge the present facilities by moving a partition between the present rooms and a borough garage and storage section in the building was granted at the Monday night meeting of the borough council.

Earl Becker, a member of the center's adult council, will serve as foreman for a corps of volunteers who will move the present partition back half the distance of the garage space, and then construct flooring and install lights and heat in that section of the building.

Cost of the improvement has been estimated at $800 with all labor on a volunteer basis.

Recruiting Area Tops

The U. S. Army-Air Force Recruiting Main station, Wilkes-Barre, which has jurisdiction over the Stroudsburg station, won recruiting honors for the second successive month in the State recruiting district.

In taking top honors again in April the station edged out others such as Harrisburg, Erie, Philadelphia, Altoona and Pittsburgh. M/Sgt. Matthew M. Wotherpoon, recruiting supervisor for the 12-county area under the Wilkes-Barre recruiting district, said the Stroudsburg station contributed a total of ten enlistments

Charity Group Chartered By Judge Davis

President Judge Fred W. Davis yesterday approved a charter for establishment of the Monroe County Children's Clothing Association, a non-profit organization devoted to the supply of apparel to needy children.

Incorporators and directors of the association were listed as: Ernest H. Wyckoff, 514 Thomas St.; James H. Ottoway, Buck Hill Falls; Merle C. Ostrom, 54 Bridge St.; Helen Minnich, 39 Bridge St.; and Atty. Arlington W. Williams, 777 Bryant St.

According to the charter, purpose of the organization is to supply clothing to poor and destitute children residing in Monroe county "through means devised from contributions of its members and others, and from such other sources as may be devised from time to time."

Principal office of the organization was established as 28 N. Seventh St. in the petition for charter, which was presented before the court by Atty. Edward L. Williams, of the law firm of Williams and Williams.

Fehrs Mark Their 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fehr, who are now making their home with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Dwyer, Bryant St., Stroudsburg, yesterday celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

Married in 1891 in Nazareth by the late Rev. Mr. Erdman, Mr. and Mrs. Fehr first lived in Northampton county, where Mr. Fehr was a painter. Later they took over a hotel in Chapman's Quarries, and from then until his retirement were in the hotel business in the West End section of the county.

Stage coaches still stopped at the hotel when it was under their management and in the recent series of "old scenes in Monroe County" he was shown on the porch of the old hotel. At his retirement they ran the Broadheads hotel.

They had four children, two of whom are living, a son Floyd Fehr, and a daughter, Mrs. William Dwyer with whom they make their home. They have five grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Mary J. Cairns Has Class Party On 12th Birthday

Mary Jean Cairns, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. Russell Cairns, of 42 Broad St., Stroudsburg, celebrated her 12th birthday on Tuesday by entertaining the members of her class in the sixth grade in the Ramsey school at a party at her home.

The teachers, Mrs. Anna Meixell and Mrs. Ruth Kubie joined the party. Pupils present included Connie Sandt, Judy Powell, Richard Kinsley, Roy Pipher, Mary Beth Knepp, Helen Marie Silver, Carol Johnson, Stephen Flieger, Stacey Jane Ace, Carolyn Jordan, Prissy Berman, Harry Miller, Catherine McClintock, Barbara Miller, Mary Gower, Kay Bentzoni, James Renfrow, Larry Van Why, Sherwood Miller, and Waldron Smith.

Supper Tonight

Friendly Society of the Zion Ev. and Reformed church will meet Thursday night at 6 for a covered dish supper at the church. Members are asked to bring the clothing for shipment overseas.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Cross your fingers and knock on wood, but isn't this the most heavenly springtime we've ever had? Can't remember when that Maytime note was sustained for so long, when the cherry and the peach and the pear and the apple blossomed all at once.

None of the May Day festivities have been rained out and they do make a picture against the fresh young green as the hundreds of Clearview parents and students could testify yesterday.

Wish I could have seen it, too, but then I wouldn't have missed our children's class picnic at Lake Lenape in the Gap. It's still as beautiful as ever it was when it was a mecca for the Girl Scouts. The summer house still stands reflected across the lake, and they've added a fireplace.

Looked like a picture post card to see the line of children winding the way around the lake, reflected in the water in all the spring's brilliant colors — lime green and tangerine and brilliant red.

But you'd never believe a colored postcard that showed in its true colors the Quaker ladies and mountain pink nestling on the gray rocks, neater than a rock garden; or the banks of wild azalea looking as tempting as pink ice cream.

Maybe the wells are getting low and the woods tinder dry—but nothing can spoil the memory of these two weeks of beauty.

Listen To Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:05 a.m.

DANCING ON THE GREEN—Marked the May Day celebration at the Clearview school yesterday afternoon. The group above are shown honoring their partners in a dance while other groups wait their turn to perform.

May Day Fete At Clearview

Crowning of the May queen at Clearview consolidated school opened the May Play day held yesterday afternoon on the school grounds. Shirley Woolever, surrounded by her ladies in waiting, page and attendants, was crowned by Principal Clarence Transue.

There followed a program of dances, songs and drills with bright touches of costume showing bright against the spring green. Miss Ardell Schlappich and William Wash, students at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College directed the activities under the supervision of Miss Kathryn Pontius.

Abbie Jane Frisbie, Nancy Ravey and Judy Fisher were the ladies in waiting to the queen. Richard Strunk was the page boy and Harold T. Miller (1st grade) was crown bearer; Mary Ann Schreck, flower girl; and Gary Hawksworth and Richard Mannix, train bearers. A procession from the school preceded the coronation.

The first grade opened the program with a dance of greeting while the second grade featured "Ach Ya". A Hungarian dance by the third grade was followed by a folk dance by the fourth grade girls and a marching drill by the sixth grade boys.

Indian braves were depicted by the special class, while the fourth grade featured special relays and games. A kinder polka was presented by the first and second grade and "Chimes of Dunkirk" by the second and third grades.

The fifth grade boys made a brilliant showing in their flag drill, and pyramids, varied by the Irish lilt danced by the fifth grade girls. The sixth grade girls presented a folk dance and the sixth grade boys presented a sword dance.

Climax of the program were the Maypole dance with two May poles one for the fifth and sixth grade girls; the other by the second and third grade girls.

About 150 parents witnessed the performance.

Mrs. Rau Presides At Final Meeting

Henryville — The Woman's Society of World Service of the Pocono-Paradise charge met at the home of Mrs. Walter Lindstedt on Thursday night, May 3, with Mrs. L. E. Rau presiding. After the topic for study was discussed, two more officers were elected, namely, Mrs. Martha Henry as secretary of Christian education and Mrs. Paul Barry as secretary of social relations.

Since this meeting was the last at which Mrs. Rau will preside due to the pastor's transfer, the group must elect a new president. This will be done at a later date. An offering was received and the meeting adjourned.

The next meeting will be at Keokee Chapel on Thursday night, May 24 with the Keokee members in charge of refreshments. The group expressed their reluctance to see Mrs. Rau leave, and wishes her the best of luck in her new home.

Present for the meeting were: Mrs. L. E. Rau, Miss Winnie Goll, Mrs. Martha Henry, Mrs. Joseph Wagner, Mrs. Ed Wagner, Mrs. E. G. Stettler, Mrs. Richard Post, Mrs. Paul Barry and the hostess, Mrs. Walter Lindstedt. Delicious refreshments were served.

Hope For Alcoholics, State Official Tells GOP Women

The problem of the alcoholic as distinguished from drunkenness, and the steps already taken in Pennsylvania and measures which need to be pushed were emphasized by the speaker at the meeting of the Monroe Council of Republican Women held yesterday afternoon at the YMCA.

Mrs. Helen C. Singer, who directs the work of the new section on alcoholism of the Pennsylvania State Department of Health, was the speaker, and used a film "The Problem Drinker" shown by Marshall Cashman as a starting point.

"The greatest responsibility facing our citizenry," she said, "is to bring alcoholism out of hiding, and the easiest way to do that is to remove the stigma of shame that attaches to it. If the world's attitude remains as it has been, many an alcoholic is going to die untreated."

Pointing out that 75 per cent of those who receive medical and mental care recover, she pointed to the 60,000 alcoholics in Pennsylvania as a major problem. One out of six are women, she pointed out. Future steps needed in the State she advocated as educational centers, well placed education in the schools, more beds allocated in more hospitals and an increased willingness of hospitals to accept women alcoholics for treatment.

Mrs. Singer was introduced by Mrs. E. Clyde Pyle, program chairman.

Mrs. J. Russell Custard, president, presided at the business meeting when she explained in detail plans for the June Republican day at Shawnee and the essay contest and election of a teen-age king and queen. Essays from all contestants must be turned in by May 26, she said.

New members welcomed included Mrs. Allen Keiper, Mrs. George Post, Mrs. Alexander Koobanoff, Mrs. Pearl Snover, Mrs. John Price, Mrs. Adolph Rake and Mrs. Russell Altomose.

Misses Almee and Lucie Girard presided at the tea table which was set with white and purple lilacs, candles and apple blossoms. Mrs. Montgomery F. Crowe was chairman of the hostess committee.

Junior Musicians Mark Music Week With Song Fest

The Junior Music Study club last night did its share in making National Music Week known in the county through a musical program presented at the Grace Lutheran church.

Three vocalists presented solos: Charlotte Bach sang "Because You're Young," Jane Lippe, "My Joe," and Glenn Snyder, "Without a Song." Charlotte Herman was their accompanist.

There was also a general song fest featuring classical, semi-classical and popular songs.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held May 28 at the home of Ora Sutton when visitors are invited.

Mrs. Weidman President Of Analomink PTA

Analomink—The Parent-Teacher association of the Analomink school met on Tuesday night when they reelected Mrs. Addie Weidman as president of the group.

Mrs. Wendell Wicks was elected vice president; Mrs. Harold Numan, secretary, and Mrs. Wayne Metzgar, treasurer. Mrs. Wicks and Mrs. Lillian Wagner, principal of the school, will serve as co-chairmen of the program committee.

Awards will be given to the two sixth graders with the highest average at the end of the term, it was decided and Mrs. Weidman will serve on the committee. The bake sale committee reported they had realized $38.55 from the recent sale.

A delegation of four members will go to Scranton on Saturday, May 12, to attend a five-county hot lunch demonstration. The sessions will begin at 9:30 a. m. and continue until 3:30 p. m., with many State representatives present to discuss individual hot lunch problems.

Tentative plans were also made for a bus trip to Hershey on or about June 15. Definite announcement will be made later.

Raymond Harding, new supervising principal of Stroud township school, was introduced and discussed the type of curriculum, social studies and health ed program he proposes to put into practice. An informal period of questions and answers followed. Raymond Allegar, school board treasurer, was also present for the meeting.

Mrs. Kenneth Smiley, hot lunch supervisor, presented her final report showing the program in good standing. More than 4,000 lunches were served during the term.

Son Telephones From Germany

Mrs. Pearl Bryner, of Roller St., East Stroudsburg, received a telephone call from her son, Robert, who is in the Army and is stationed in Germany.

He is in good health and the weather is very nice in Germany now, he said, but he is anxious to hear from his friends. At present he is going to signal school but will be back at his old station after May 15, where his address is Pfc. Robert A. Goucher, 1A 13500858 Hq. and Hq. ## Eaton Speaks To SPCA On Need Of Pets

Rev. Harold C. Eaton stressed the importance of pets in the home and the spiritual rewards of caring for pets and receiving their attention in return at the meeting of the Monroe county chapter of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals held Tuesday night at the YMCA.

Dr. C. W. Dupree, president, was in charge of the meeting and Mrs. Ellen Albenzi was program chairman.

Further plans for the county-wide tag day for the benefit of a county animal shelter were considered. Children in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg will begin their "tagging" today, while tag day will be held on Saturday only in Mount Pocono, Shawnee, Cresco and Saylorsburg.

A nominating committee was chosen by the group to include Miss Wealthy Kortz, chairman; Mrs. Eugene Emmerich, Mrs. J. Clarence Shafer, Mrs. Russell Baggot, Mrs. Ellen Albenzi with Mrs. Willis Goddard and Mrs. George Salvio, alternates.

Mrs. Goddard served refreshments after the meeting.

Guild Plans To Decorate Hall

Tannersville — The Women's Guild of the Grace Reformed church met at the home of Mrs. Matilda Kresge on Sunday night, May 6. The program was a missionary one led by Mrs. Laura Niering.

During the business period, plans were discussed for redecorating the hallways in the church with new floor covering, paint and furniture.

Reports were presented by the delegates to the Regional Guild at Martins Creek, Mrs. Alta Metzgar, Mrs. Emma Niering and Mrs. Laura Niering. Cards were sent to sick members.

Refreshments were enjoyed at the close of the meeting by Miss Margaret Smith, Mrs. Evelyn Kresge, Mrs. Naomi Learn, Mrs. Helen Starnes, Mrs. Mollie Yarbrough, Mrs. Alta Metzgar, Mrs. Eloda Gerhard, Margaret Tallada, Mrs. Niering, Mrs. Laura Niering, Mrs. Blitterman and baby and the hostess.

Party Held For Granddaughters

Henryville—On Saturday afternoon a double birthday party was held for Connie and Joann Post at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kresge. It was in honor of the 6th birthday of Connie and the 7th birthday of Joann.

Among their little friends attending the party were: Marian and Margaret Law, Genevieve and Junior Butz, Cathy and Ronnie Shick, Bonnie and Nahcy Osborne, Barbara Post, Jeannie Strunk, Bobby Post, and the honored guests and cousins Tommy and Romain Kauffman.

Games were played, with prizes going to Ronnie Shick, Bobby Post, Bonnie Osborne, and Barbara Post. Cakes, ice cream, candy, and soda were enjoyed. Mrs. George Post, paternal grandmother of the celebrants was also present.

Stork Shower At Read's For Mrs. Schaller

A stork shower was held last night at the home of Mrs. Frank Read, 41 North Green St., East Stroudsburg in honor of Mrs. Robert Schaller. It was a surprise shower and she found her gifts surrounding a homemade cake.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

If the presence of this dry, hot weather and the appearance of baseball on the sports pages isn't enough to make even the most stubborn person alive admit that summer is just around the corner, a visit to Shawnee Country club will certainly turn the trick. The presence of Harry Obitz and his golf staff at work, plus the ever-on-the-go Fred Waring, owner of the local resort, taking care of the million and one things that need his attention, serve to remind us that the rolling 18-hole layout is almost ready to present another summer of outstanding golfing programs, both amateur and professional.

Obitz and his staff will take part in their final tournament of the young season on Monday, when the entire group plays at Langhorne. Veteran members of Harry's staff are Stan Dudas, Jack Ryan and Dick Farley, while Obitz has added an outstanding newcomer in the person of Charley Minch. Minch is the son of one of California's greatest professional golfers. The new member of the staff is a resident of Sacramento during the winter months. Rocco "Rocky" Coco, a familiar figure to everyone in this area, is back at his familiar post of governing the caddies and keeping bags and clubs in top condition.

Despite the dry weather of late, the Shawnee course is in good condition and waiting only for the proper date to arrive before it plays host to tournament play. Local pros are going through their practice paces and among their group is the colorful Dudas, a gentleman who this column had in the Army about a month ago. It certainly was good to see that Stan was back at his familiar job yesterday. Jerry Stulgaitis, baseball and football coach at Stroudsburg High, will also return to Shawnee this summer, and during this time will continue to improve his golf game, which at the present time is bordering on that of a professional in ability.

Although golf is still in the air, bowlers of the area are still hanging on. As a matter of fact, the Pocono Bowling Center is currently improving its already good alleys. Bill Broad, proprietor of the Sixth St. alleys, announced the other day that the installation of electric pin spotting devices should be complete by today. The pin spotters will see to it that the pins are perfectly placed in each alley. Broad reports that the electric pin spotters were first used at the ABC tournament in Cincinnati last year and met with huge success. The device is approved by the American Bowling Congress.

Mrs. Floyd Shook, who didn't miss a home game of the Stroudsburg Poconos last year, hasn't forgotten the boys who carried the Monroe County colors into professional baseball in 1950. Mrs. Shook dropped into the office yesterday to procure the address of Billy Long and John Pardo, two veteran campaigners with the Poconos last year, and now with Three Rivers, Que., of the class "C" Provincial League. It seems that Long and Pardo are on the verge of celebrating birthdays and Mrs. Shook doesn't want to forget the boys on their special days.

Bob Higgins, former football coach at Penn State, and Jim Coogan, public relations director at the same school, stopped for dinner at the Penn Stroud Hotel on Tuesday night. Both contacted Dr. Evan C. Reese, member of the General Hospital staff, before departing from this locality. Dr. Reese is a graduate of Penn State. Several major league scouts were on hand to watch East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and the University of Scranton play baseball on Monday, on the Normal Hill field.

Included in the group was Mike McNally, president of the Wilkes-Barre entry in the class "A" Eastern League, who visited Stroudsburg on many occasions in 1949, while the Poconos had a working agreement with the Cleveland Indians. The 1949 agreement worked through the Wilkes-Barre club. Other scouts on hand on Monday included representatives of the Chicago White Sox and New York Giants. There were no reports as to whether the ivory hunters saw anything they liked or not during the 9-2 victory compiled by ESSTC. Reports indicate that several sportswomen are attempting to purchase Russell Park, home of the North Atlantic League Carbondale Pioneer Blues last year, in order to turn it into a midge race track.

Charley "Chuck" Quimby, third sucker for the Bangor Slayers for part of the 1950 campaign, is now managing Tallahassee of the class "C" Georgia-Florida League. In the first six games of the present campaign Quimby banged out two home runs, one triple, two doubles and a single, accounting for nine runs driven across the plate. During the early stages of the 1950 season Quimby and Stroudsburg's Elmer "Buddy" Dashiell were carrying on a feud that threatened to break into a real fight on more than one occasion. However, each time it was averted, and the result of all concerned.

ESSTC Trips Kutztown For Fifth Victory Of Season

Late Splurge Decides High Scoring Game

Kutztown — East Stroudsburg State Teachers College accounted for its third straight victory and fifth in eight starts here yesterday, with a 15-11 decision over Kutztown in a high scoring contest. The win was the second of the campaign for ESSTC over Kutztown, as the Warriors came up with a 15-12 favorable decision on the Normal Hill field last week.

Runs were a dime a dozen in yesterday's tilt, without a full inning passing by the boards without at least one run being chased across the plate. Both clubs served notice that only the fittest would survive, as the respective rivals each scored three times in the first frame. Kutztown came up with two in the second and the same number in the third, to assume a 7-3 edge at that point.

However, the Warriors fought back with two in the fourth and each club came up with one in the fifth. ESSTC pushed two runners into paydirt in the top of the sixth to knot the count at 8-8.

The Warriors completely dominated the game the remainder of the distance, checking in with four tallies in the seventh and three in the ninth, while Kutztown came up with singletons in each of the last three frames.

Two Hurters — Gene Talgo opened on the hill for ESSTC, but relief artist Forrest "Tiger" Reitz came on the scene to silence the Kutztown bats when the chips were down during the last six and one-third frames.

Talgo was touched for a home run by Gehris and Bradley came up with a four base wallop off Reitz in the fading innings.

Hobart "Hobe" Hutchins and the two pitchers were the only ESSTC players failing to get at least one safety. Art Czarnowski and Harold "Hal" Sisco led the visiting attack with three hits each. Pritchard, Lyle Krall, Joe Check and Bachell each had two safeties. Jimmy Wercheiser's only hit was a booming triple.

Roseto American Legion Team Lists First Diamond Practice

Roseto-Martocci-Capobianco American Legion Post will hold its first baseball practice here at Roseto Park next Wednesday night, at 6. It was announced last night by Joe Martocci, manager of the team, following a business meeting at the American Legion post.

Martocci, who was in charge of the meeting, stated that a steering committee composed of Thomas Sabatine, "Rockie" Delessio, Leonard Casclano, Dan Dito and Anthony Villiano had been named to raise funds for the project.

Next Meeting
Another business meeting is scheduled to be held at the legion home on Sunday morning, at 10:30, at which time further plans will be discussed.

Next Wednesday's practice will be under the direction of Martocci and Anthony Riguevuto. All candidates are urged to attend the opening drill session.

Turnesa Confident Americans Will Retain Walker Trophy

By Glenn Williams

Birkdale, England, (AP)—Willie Turnesa, captain of the United States Walker Cup golf team, drilled his charges over the bathtub fairways of the Birkdale course yesterday and surmised that his team will be able to hang onto the cup.

But he predicted that tomorrow's and Saturday's struggle for the international trophy of amateur golf will be "very close."

Turnesa also expressed his belief that the Americans will win for the twelfth time in 13 contests—because "we have the edge in the play around the greens."

Turnesa is almost certain to partner with United States amateur champion Sam Uzzetta of Rochester, N. Y., in one of tomorrow's four foursomes. Willie has not yet made up his mind whether to play in Saturday's singles or leave all those matches to his eight teammates.

Best
Turnesa proved himself the best of the Americans in yesterday's singles drill, which went only one round instead of the two rounds the team had been playing every other day this week.

Willie shot a one-under-par 73 despite sixes on the sixteenth and eighteenth holes. His performance included holding a six iron approach for an eagle two on the tenth hole. Uzzetta almost matched Willie on this feat, slamming his approach within a foot of the cup for a birdie three. But on many a hole the reigning American champion sprayed his tee shots with his new driver and he scrambled to a score of 81.

Phillies Edge Pirates In Tenth

Philadelphia (AP)—Ed Pellagrini's tenth inning single with two out drove Eddie Waitkus home with the run that gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 6-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates last night.

Jim Konstanty, the National League's most valuable player last year, finally won his first game after three successive defeats. He entered the game in the ninth inning relieving Russ Meyer with Pirates on first and third and one out.

Good Job
Fireman Jim forced two of the Buck power hitters, Gus Bell and Ralph Kiner, to ground out, ending the threat.

Dick Sisler and Wally Westlake struck the big blows of the game. Sisler, who drove three Phillies runs across the plate, hit his fourth homer of the season with one on in the second. Westlake, an outfielder playing third for the second straight game, also homered in the fifth. It was number five for him and accounted for two runs. ## Warriors Win Over Kutztown In Tennis, 6-3

Kutztown — History repeated itself here yesterday afternoon, as the tennis team from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College scored a 6-3 victory over the racquet welders from Kutztown State Teachers College. It was the second time this season that the Warriors have won over Kutztown by a 6-3 count.

Al Malik, ESSTC, took the measure of George Crowe in the number one singles encounter, 6-3 and 9-7. However, Kutztown's Jim Manley came back to even matters, with a 6-2, 6-2 decision over Bob Garrett.

Gain Lead

ESSTC went ahead to stay when Charley "Bud" Wilson won his first match of the season with a 6-3, 3-6 and 6-3 verdict over Dick Reed, in the third singles battle. Tony Barros, ESSTC, won over Art Thompson, 6-2, 6-3 and Joe Maiorillo, ESSTC, took the measure of Joe Villiano, 6-4, 7-5. Bill Fesenden wound up the singles action by trimming Kutztown's Don Acker, 6-0, 6-3.

Kutztown won the first two doubles matches, as Manly and Villiano teamed to down Malik and Garrett, 6-3, 1-6 and 9-7, while Crowe and Reed ganged up on Barros and Wilson, 6-4 and 7-5.

Bill Schmidt and Jim Hannon saved the final doubles match for ESSTC, with a 7-5, 1-6 and 6-2 decision over Lou Sobelman and Carl Godshall.

Yesterday's win was the third in five outings for ESSTC this year. The Warriors return to action on Saturday, when they play host to the Alumni on the Normal Hill courts.

A's Nip Browns With Big Frame

St. Louis (AP)—A pair of Brownie errors and doubles by Carl Scheib and Sam Chapman in the tenth gave the Philadelphia Athletics six runs and an 8 to 2 overtime victory over the St. Louis club last night. The A's trailed twice in the game but Eddie Joost homered in the top of the ninth to tie the count.

Tucker's, Eagles Gain Softball Nods

Patterson-Kelley blew a nine run lead last night and the Eagles came on to win their fourth straight Monroe County league softball game, 19-9, in an extra inning contest at East Stroudsburg Junior High school.

The second contest on last night's agenda found Tucker's Chevrolet gaining an 11-8 decision over Line Material, at Stroudsburg Playground.

Patterson-Kelley held a 9-0 edge over the Eagles at the end of four innings, but the Eagles came up with three tallies in the fifth and six in the seventh to tie the count. One run in the overtime session decided the contest.

Faces Attack

Gail "Doc" Fegley paced the winning attack with a home run and a bases-loaded double, while Jim "Bunky" Smith slammed his second circuit blow in as many nights for Patterson-Kelley.

Benny Miller and Joe Melvin led Tucker's to victory with one home run each, while Phillips hit for the circuit for Line Material.

Tonight's schedule calls for two games, both to begin at 6:30. IAM stacks up against Kulp's Foundry at Stroudsburg Playground, while Union Printers and Worthington Mower clash at the East Stroudsburg Junior High school field.

Four Changes Made In Mountain League Schedule

Ten Umpires Selected For Opening Games

Four minor changes have been made in the Pocono Mountain league schedule, it was announced last night by Harold Kresge, president of the circuit. The league will open the 1951 campaign on Sunday, with a total of ten teams going to the post, instead of the 14 that launched the 1950 season.

A week from Sunday's schedule will feature the first change, when West End plays at Analamink, instead of the other way around, as previously announced. On Sunday, June 10, West End will play at Tobyhanna, instead of reversed as previously mentioned.

On Sunday, July 8, Analamink will play at West End instead of the manner in which the game was originally listed, while the final change is slated for Sunday, August 5, at which time West End will oppose Tobyhanna, on the latter's home field, instead of as originally listed.

Kresge also released the names of the ten regular umpires who will serve the league this season. This group includes Sam Gaeton, Blaine Singer, Clarence Edinger, Art Barnes, Herb Reisenwitz, Bob Kitchen, Tom Caramella, Sam Caramella, Bob Garrett and Lynn "Duke" Decker.

Alternates on the list are Reginald Nauman, Gerry Heckman, Paul Kokolus, Walt Stem and Charley Lugg.

Although Stem is umpire-in-chief of the circuit, he is listed as an alternate because he will do most of his umpiring in the Blue Mountain League this season.

Friend Pays Tribute To Diegel

North Hollywood, Calif., (AP)—"I never knew a gamer guy."

This was the simple tribute paid yesterday to Leo Diegel, renowned golfer of two decades ago, who died of cancer at his home here late Tuesday.

Maurie Luxford, a patron of golf and a close friend of the wiry little 52-year-old professional, voiced the tribute.

Steady Visitor
Luxford, a steady visitor to the stricken Diegel's bedside the past year, was the last one, aside from the golfer's immediate family, to see him alive.

Diegel, a native of Detroit, will be buried there.

Brief services will be held here and many of Diegel's friends and rivals in golf will attend.

New Charges Against Fixer

New York — (AP) — An alleged fixer in the New York City basketball scandal had contact with players in other parts of the country, an assistant district attorney said yesterday.

The alleged fixer, Eli Klukofsky, alias Eli Kay, 29, was held in $75,000 bail for a hearing Tuesday at his arraignment yesterday.

Arraigned
He was arraigned in felony court on a bribery charge involving three City College of New York games and five CCNY players.

At the arraignment, assistant district attorney Vincent A. G. O'Connor said "our investigation shows he had contact with other players not alone in New York City, but in other parts of the country."

Jacked Up Prices Can Hurt You!

THERE'S a big dollar sign on that place of yours. BUT it should be a danger sign if you're insuring for what your property WAS worth rather than for what it IS worth. Yes, that mistake can cost you plenty if disaster strikes. Take a tip! Make sure NOW that you are ADEQUATELY insured.

Giants Put On Biggest Display Of Power To Humble Weakened Cardinals At Polo Grounds

New York (AP)—The New York Giants took advantage of a weakened, make-shift St. Louis lineup yesterday and proceeded to crush the limping Cardinals, 17-3.

In their biggest power display of the season, the Giants pounded four St. Louis flingers for 21 hits that included two home runs by catcher Ray Noble, a four-bagger by Bob Thompson and a double and triple by Captain Alvin Dark.

With this blitz barrage going for him, Sal Maglie, the curve balling right-hander with the longest sideburns in baseball, breezed through to his third straight victory. His last start was a one-hit win over Pittsburgh.

Everybody in the Giants' starting lineup got into the hit and run parade. Dark, Noble and "Whitey" Lockman poled four safeties apiece as the Giants tied the season's major league club high for hits and runs. The Yanks and White Sox previously scored 17 runs and the Yanks also collected 21 hits.

Chunky Max Lanier first of the four Card chukkers, was tagged with the loss although he was touched up only lightly compared to the shellacking absorbed by his first two "rescuers," Ted Wilks and Erv Dusak. Al Brazle finished. The Cards, with eight of their personnel bedded by the flu, and colds, presented a "rinkydink" starting lineup that had the gathering of 7,669 searching through their score cards. After checking the pulse of his available athletes, Manager Marty Marion finally handed his card to the umpires which showed an infield composed entirely of rookies and Stan Musial in centerfield for the first time.

Musial, who played despite a heavy chest and head cold, finally had to quit in the Giants' half of the fourth.

Everybody in the Giants' starting lineup got into the hit and run parade. Dark, Noble and "Whitey" Lockman poled four safeties apiece as the Giants tied the season's major league club high for hits and runs. The Yanks and White Sox previously scored 17 runs and the Yanks also collected 21 hits.

Chunky Max Lanier first of the four Card chukkers, was tagged with the loss although he was touched up only lightly compared to the shellacking absorbed by his first two "rescuers," Ted Wilks and Erv Dusak. Al Brazle finished. The Cards, with eight of their personnel bedded by the flu, and colds, presented a "rinkydink" starting lineup that had the gathering of 7,669 searching through their score cards. After checking the pulse of his available athletes, Manager Marty Marion finally handed his card to the umpires which showed an infield composed entirely of rookies and Stan Musial in centerfield for the first time.

Musial, who played despite a heavy chest and head cold, finally had to quit in the Giants' half of the fourth.

Abrams, King Lead Dodgers To Victory

Brooklyn (AP) — A timely double by Cal Abrams and snappy relief pitching by Clyde King gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 5-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs yesterday.

King scattered six hits over eight innings to pick up his second victory against one defeat.

Abrams, fighting for a regular left field berth, snapped a two-all tie in the sixth inning with a two-out, two-run double. The Dodgers picked up another run in that inning, and it proved to be just enough at the Cubs closed fast with single runs in the eighth and ninth innings.

Relief King replaced starter Johnny Van Cuyx in the second after the left hander had given up two runs in the first on two singles, a ground out and Andy Pafko's long triple.

Brooklyn tied the game at 2-2 in the second on Carl Furillo's walk, a looping double by Roy Campanella, a throwing error by Wayne Terwilliger and Billy Cox's double.

Then came Brooklyn's big three-run sixth.

Mrs. Smith Dies At Home Of Daughter

Mrs. Charlotte W. Smith, widow of William Smith, of Stroudsburg, died at 1:30 a.m. yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lester Whitman, 142 Myrtle Ave., East Stroudsburg.

Mrs. Smith, who was 77, was the daughter of the late Henry and Helena (Backmire) Lesoine. She was a resident of Stroudsburg most of her life, but moved to East Stroudsburg to make her home with her daughter several years ago.

She had been in failing health for the past four months.

Survivors include two sons, Roger A. Smith, Stroudsburg, and Harold H. Smith, East Stroudsburg; one daughter, Mrs. Whitman; four grandchildren, four brothers, David Lesoine, Cherry Lane; Earl Lesoine, Ansonia; George Lesoine, Orange, N. J.; and Fred Lesoine, East Stroudsburg.

Also three sisters, Mrs. Albert Sommers, Canadensis; Mrs. Elizabeth Marean, Stroudsburg; and Mrs. Henrietta Bush, of Stroudsburg.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg. Rev. Edward Huston, pastor of the Pilgrim Holiness church, of which the deceased was a member, will officiate.

Friends may pay respects at the Lanterman funeral home from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday. Interment will be made in East Stroudsburg's Prospect cemetery.

Orn Balliet, 78, Dies At New Rochelle

Orn J. Balliet, 198 Church St., New Rochelle, N. Y., died early this week at his home. He was 78. For some years he was a printer with the old Stroudsburg Daily Times.

In 1896, while a resident of Stroudsburg, he married Miss Josephine Decker of Stroudsburg and moved to New Rochelle, N. Y., as a linotype operator on the Daily News and Press, first daily newspaper in that city.

A native of Milford, N. J., where he learned the printing trade, Mr. Balliet was first operator to work on the old Washington Press, now in the Philadelphia Museum.

Mr. Balliet retired 12 years ago. He had received a 40-year button in recognition of being a member of Typographical union that period of time.

Equity Case Continued

Argument in an equity matter pertaining to a property right-of-way in Barrett township was commenced in Monroe county court here yesterday, but it was later moved that the matter be continued.

Dr. Albert Rosenbeck, Philadelphia dentist, is the plaintiff in the action against Carl W. and Eva M. Brown, of Brown's Lake near Cresco.

The case involves lines of a road on the property and right to the use of the road. Proceedings yesterday were concluded when the court granted a motion to continue which was presented by Atty. C. Edward DePuy, counsel for Dr. Rosenbeck.

Atty. Christie D. Shull represented the defendants.

made a business call to Pocono Pines.

Frederick Harold, of Bethlehem, spent the weekend at his home.

Clarence Majer and Mrs. Norman May, Mt. Pocono, visited Mrs. Alice Majer at Allentown on Saturday.

Assessments Under Study At Bangor

Bangor—Chamber of Commerce of Bangor has appointed a committee to meet with other groups from the borough council, the Board of Education and the tax assessors in an attempt to secure more equitable property assessments in the borough.

The action was taken at a Chamber of Commerce meeting at the Metropolitan Edison Co. offices with Chamber President Ernest Turzilo in charge.

The meeting with the other groups will take place within a two-week period, after the others appoint their committee members and a date and place for the meeting are arranged.

The Chamber of Commerce committee members named are Fred McFall, David Stoddard, A. C. Ferris, Donald McKenzie and William Doall.

At the Tuesday night meeting,

Bush Company Buys Property

C. G. Bush and Sons, tree service firm of Stroudsburg RD 3, has purchased approximately two acres along Route 611 midway between Stroudsburg and Bartonsville, according to a deed for the transaction which was placed on file at the office of Register and Recorder Floyd Butz yesterday.

The firm, a business company comprising Calvin G. Bush, Calvin C. Bush and Ervin R. Bush, all of Stroud township, purchased the tract from Frank and Grace R. White, of 566 Prospect Ave., Spring Lake Heights, N. J.

The chamber also announced that it will no longer attempt to bring about a reconciliation of union and non-union employees at the local Julius Keyser Manufacturing Co. plant.

The move to pull out of the labor dispute came, it was said, after members noted that the chamber's two-month program to bring factions together has resulted in no measure of unity.

There's Real Interest In Fishing At Pocono School

Tannersville—There are plenty of fish enthusiasts here at Pocono Township school. And judging from the many requests Miss Lenita Clemens is receiving, the fishing must be pretty good too.

Miss Clemens is the home economics teacher at the school here. Since the fish seem to be biting in the pool on the school's front campus, the deep freezes in her department have become very popular lately.

Some of the students have been so interested in fish lately, George Learn Jr. took his biology class on a field trip to the Paradise Fish hatchery. But this time they left their fishing rods home and just observed.

They saw where eggs were laid and hatched and then watched two-year-old rainbow, brown and brook trout zipping around in their own, individual pools.

Amazing Discovery by Helena Rubinstein

New "Deep Cleanser" penetrates deeper into pore openings!

Helena Rubinstein's revolutionary DEEP CLEANSER makes old-fashioned cleansing creams obsolete. It penetrates deeper into pore openings, removes the dirt and make-up which other creams left behind.

And this mild, quick-acting fluid contains super-emollients which counteract dryness.

Helps prevent surface blemishes. Ordinary creams don't destroy bacteria which commonly cause blemishes—they merely work some off the surface of your face. The bacteria left behind can easily enter pore openings and make your skin "break out."

Helena Rubinstein has incorporated a sensational new anti-septic in DEEP CLEANSER—Mild, pure R-51 penetrates deeper and destroys the bacteria.

Helena Rubinstein has included two remarkable cleansing agents in DEEP CLEANSER—"hydrophylic" to remove grime containing water, "lipoidphylic" for grime containing oil.

Result: DEEP CLEANSER penetrates deeper and floats away both kinds of grime. Your face is left immaculately clean—and germ-free.

Costs less than any other cleanser. One drop of DEEP CLEANSER goes so far, only 1/4 teaspoon will cleanse your whole face. The huge economy-size bottle contains 160 cleansings, yet costs only 1.50 (less per cleansing than ordinary creams!). Used every night this amazing cleanser costs less than a penny a day!

Deep Cleanser comes in a handy plastic squeeze bottle. Keeps contents at high purity.
